The Council discussed moving Burning River Brass to Cultural Events because there was money left in the budget and the group fit the requirements of a Cultural event. The Council also decided to move Lowcountry Voices to the Art Events because they were a better fit in the Arts category.

The Council also voted on one of the seven events that were voted as "3." After the vote, Cynthia Sayer and Her Joyride Quarter was chosen to be a part of the Art events.

Throughout the meeting, the Council continued to discuss the artists chosen for the 2017/2018 Arts and Cultural Events season while planning the dates and locations for each event.
